“HE DID NOT JUST LAY BRICKS FOR SCHOOLS—HE LAID FOUNDATIONS FOR LIVES. HE DID NOT MERELY DREAM OF FUTURES—HE CREATED LEGACIES.”

With heavy hearts, we honor a visionary whose quiet dedication to learning has left a lasting legacy of compassion, understanding, and opportunity for all.

He was more than a founder; he was the heart and soul of the Meerut Public School Group. With unwavering commitment and limited resources, he laid the foundation of an institution that now touches the lives of thousands. His dream was to create a space where education was not just about books, but about character, values, and the holistic development of young minds—a dream that has become a living legacy.

He envisioned an education that nurtured not only intellect but also character. His emphasis on shlokas, poems, and the richness of language helped shape students who excelled academically and culturally. Today, MPS alumni shine in fields such as IIT, IIM, NIT, NID, civil services, and the armed forces, proudly carrying forward the values he instilled in them.

Under his visionary leadership, the Meerut Public School Group has flourished over the years, becoming synonymous with excellence. From humble beginnings to a dynamic group of institutions, his values have remained the guiding light at every milestone. His principles continue to echo in the classrooms, corridors, and countless success stories that emerge from the MPS fold each year.

Though he is no longer with us, his vision still shapes our path. His values are reflected in our daily efforts, achievements and in the strong foundation on which the Meerut Public School Group stands today. We remain committed to carrying his legacy forward with dedication and pride.
